

OSU Extension Reconsidered | Agenda

CH2M Hill Alumni Center

April 15, 2014

- |                         |  |
|-------------------------|--|
| 9:30 - 10:00 a.m.       | Check-in and networking  |
| 10:00 - 10:30 a.m.      | Welcome  |
| 10:30 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. | Arts deliberarium: an arts engagement experienceThe morning session will engage participants in a series of interactive artistic activities in preparation for the afternoon's forum.   |
| 12:30 - 1:30 p.m.       | Lunch  |
| 1:30 - 4:30 p.m.        | Deliberative forumParticipants will explore these questions: <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. What is the role of the arts, humanities and design in a vibrant community?</li><li>2. How is OSU Extension currently engaged through the arts? What additional opportunities are there for OSU Extension in this area, and what would it take to make it happen?</li><li>3. What would communities look like if OSU Extension was more engaged in communities in the areas of art, humanities and design?</li></ol> |
| 5:00 - 6:00 p.m.        | Reception and wrap-up ( University Lab Theatre )  |

Oregon State is one of 12 universities participating in Extension Reconsidered, a national Imagining America initiative that invites citizens to imagine and consider new ways for Cooperative Extension to serve as a vital resource for communities in the 21st century.

This initiative was launched to mark the centennial of the Smith-Lever Act of 1914, the federal legislation that institutionalized the land-grant system's Extension work by establishing the national Cooperative Extension System.

Oregon State
UNIVERSITY